I find cooking amusing! It is an endless experiment and connecting flavours. First, you mix the ingredients and taste, than change, replace and you reach for your culinary experiences from travels around the world. In my cooking, I use what is the best of my native Italian cuisine combining and playing with the variety of flavors. It could be sophisticated French cuisine, multidimensional Thai cuisine, simple Japanese cuisine or rich Polish cuisine. In the end, it is all about the pleasure of eating and to discover yet unknown regions of culinary indulgence, right?
